DANIELA D'AGOSTINO

Daniela d'Agostino's style is undoubtedly the result of her birth in a multicultural environment and her nomadic existence. Born in 1980 into an Italian-Venezuelan family, she had already lived on almost every continent before the end of her teenage years. It was then that her family left for Florida, where she went to university and met the love of her life.

She has now settled in Switzerland, in Geneva, with her husband and their two children.

Today, Daniela continues her endless quest to find new sources of inspiration to create her jewellery. She draws her influences not only from her travels but also from her lifelong passion for the arts, design, architecture, photography, literature, spiritual symbolism and nature. But what is probably her deepest source of inspiration is the inner strength and sensuality that she feels in women and that she makes visible in each of her designs.

Each piece is handmade in Lebanon, Switzerland and Italy from magnificent stones brought from different countries. Behind each of her creations, there is a story to discover and visualize: a color, a shape, a symbol that evokes a specific place or a memory...

This jewel then becomes an amulet that accompanies you throughout a very special journey, through time and space. A colorful universe inspired by warm tropical colors crossed with timeless elegance and the typical Italian chic. These jewels give women who wear them confidence and a true sense of elegance.

Imagine the warm and colorful lava that runs from a volcano in Saint Lucia, the paved paths of Panaréa invaded by flowering bougainvillea, the smell of lemons and jasmine of Capri, the intensity and the bright colors of the canvases of Frida Kahlo, the magical stories of Isabel Allende, the scenic and snow-capped landscapes of the Swiss Alps or the amulet found in the streets of Beirut... what Daniela offers is nothing less than the explosive encounter of all these artistic influences and styles from all over the world.

These nomadic jewels are finely crafted from 18-carat gold, diamonds and a wide variety of gems. They are timeless and at the same time derivative from a great modernity, composed for confident, daring women who are not afraid to take risks and who are ready to live life-changing adventures.

The allure and exoticism of the Orient, its landscapes, literature, civilizations, and art in our collective imagination has infused the design of our unique pieces. Let yourself be enchanted...
